MANAGEMENT REPORT

Building Capabilities for a Secure Europe

The European Defence Agency ('EDA' or 'The Agency') has been created to help EU Member States to develop their defence capabilities for crisis-management operations under the European Security and Defence Policy. The Agency will achieve its goal by encouraging EU Governments to spend defence budgets on meeting tomorrow's challenges, not yesterday's threats, and by increasingly pooling their efforts and resources. The Agency's success will mean:

- Better military capabilities
- Stronger European defence industry
- Better value for European taxpayers

RESULT OF THE YEAR

- In 2006, EDA spent €18.8 million or approx. 88 % of the available €21.3 million budget (1).
- In the course of the year, the Agency's Staff increased by 19 %, from 79 to 94 (2).
- Major achievements in 2006 include the establishment of a Code of Conduct on Defence procurement, the generation of a Long Term Vision and the successful launch of the first European Defence Research & Technology Joint Investment Programme for € 55 million, managed by the Agency.
- In 2006, 30 operational projects were engaged for a total amount of approx. €3.9 million.

EDA STRUCTURE AND FUNCTIONS

EDA'S STRUCTURE

The European Defence Agency is an agency of the European Union ⁽⁵⁾, falling under the direction and authority of the Council, which issues guidelines to and receives reports from High Representative Javier Solana as Head of the Agency. Detailed control and guidance, however, is the job of the Steering Board.

Javier Solana chairs the Steering Board, the principal decision-making body of the Agency, made up of Defence Ministers from 24 participating Member States (all EU members except Denmark; 26 after the accession of Bulgaria and Romania) and a member of the European Commission. In addition to ministerial meetings at least twice a year, the Steering Board also meets at the subministerial level: National Armaments Directors, Research and Technology Directors and in Capabilities formation.

The Chief Executive, his Deputy and the five Directors together form the Agency Management Board (AMB), supported by the Planning & Policy and Media & Communication Units.

⁽⁵⁾ EDA was established under the Council Joint Action 2004/551/CFSP on 12 July 2004.

Date: 26/06/2007 Produced by: EDA – CSD FA

2006 FINANCIAL REPORT

2006 ACTIVITY REPORT

REPORT TO THE COUNCIL BY JAVIER SOLANA (6)

In its second year, the Agency has begun to deliver substantial results from an agenda addressing concurrently the immediate and the longer-term. Notable results include a fledgling Defence Equipment Market; a well-received Long Term Vision; and a new programme for joint investment in R&T. But progress in filling capability gaps depends on Member States' readiness to adjust and converge their defence spending plans.

1. The Agency's work in 2006, its second year of operation, has been framed by the guidelines adopted by the Council on 21 November 2005 (ref. doc. 14804/05); by the 2006 Work Programme agreed by the Agency's Steering Board on the same date; and by the "Hampton Court agenda" flowing from the informal EU summit of 27 October 2005. The year has seen delivery of the Agency's first substantial results, most noticeably in relation to the European Defence Equipment Market; to the generation of a Long-Term Vision for ESDP Capability and Capacity Needs; and to preparation of the first European Defence Research & Technology Joint Investment Programme.

European Defence Equipment Market

- 2. In November last year the Steering Board agreed a Code of Conduct on Defence Procurement, intended to introduce intra-European competition, on a voluntary and reciprocal basis, into most of those areas of defence procurement which traditionally have been handled on a national basis under Article 296 of the Treaty establishing the European Community. Bringing the new regime into operation on 1 July required: development and agreement of an associated Code of Best Practice in the Supply Chain (intended to drive the benefits of competition down to sub-contractors, including small- and medium-sized enterprises); agreement on the necessary reporting and monitoring regime; and establishment on the Agency's website of an Electronic Bulletin Board through which all new relevant contracting opportunities can be notified to suppliers across Europe.
- 3. All these steps were accomplished in time to allow the regime to come into operation as scheduled, with 22 of the 24 participating Member States (pMS) subscribing to the regime. The Electronic Bulletin Board now carries details of over 60 contracting opportunities, with an aggregate value which we estimate at over €3 billion.
- 4. Subsequently, the 22 subscribing Member States arrived at mutual agreements on Security of Information, and Security of Supply in circumstances of operational urgency. These two agreements are important steps to facilitate the fair operation of a competitive market within Europe, by addressing concerns which might have prompted discrimination against non-national suppliers. The agreement on Security of Supply is additionally an important step forward in terms of solidarity between the Member States involved, and supports the consensus on the need for less duplication, more specialisation and more interdependence in the European Defence Technological and Industrial base (EDTIB), as well as less dependence on non-European sources for key technologies. This consensus was captured in Steering Board agreement on a description of the characteristics of a strong EDTIB.

The Long-Term Vision

5. This 25-page document, endorsed by the Ministerial Steering Board on 3 October, is the distillation of a year-long effort by the Agency to identify and analyse the key trends shaping the future, and particularly the future nature of ESDP operations, for which we must prepare. The work was carried out in particularly close collaboration with the EU Military Committee and the Institute for Security Studies - but with help and assistance from a wide range of other experts and organisations from across Europe. The analysis has been widely praised – but its real value will be as a foundation upon which to build the Agency's future agendas, and particularly an ESDP Capability Development Plan, as described below.

Defence Research & Technology

- 6. The Hampton Court impulse, the EDA's first major conference, and two Ministerial Steering Board discussions in March and May, all helped forge the consensus that we are under-investing in Defence R&T in Europe, and need to find ways to "spend more, spend better, and spend more together". Defence Ministers agreed that current levels of R&T investment, at less than 1.3% of overall EU defence spending, are simply inadequate if we are serious about maintaining a globally competitive defence technological and industrial base in Europe.
- 7. Intensive efforts have accordingly been made with pMS to develop a new "Joint Investment Programme" initiative, intended to provide a more efficient alternative to the traditional project-byproject approach to R&T collaboration in Europe. The work has involved the design of the necessary "vehicle" (the administrative, financial and managerial arrangements) and definition of the first "cargo" to be carried in this vehicle (a programme of joint R&T work in the force protection area, systematically derived from analysis of agreed capability challenges).
- 8. I expect the Steering Board meeting of 13 November to launch this enterprise, with a majority of the Agency's pMS contributing, and a pooled budget of over €50 million.

Other positives

- 9. Beyond these three major developments, a series of other advances are worth noting:
- promising capability development work in the Command, Control and Communication area, primarily concerning Software-Defined Radio and in theatre exploitation of imagery for EU Battle groups;
- development of an interesting agenda in maritime surveillance;
- launch of the first two feasibility studies into key technologies for future Armoured Fighting
- emergence of a "cooperative mechanism" to assist the pMS and industry in taking forward joint armament-related projects;
- agreement of a Standardisation Policy to increase the transparency and commonality of standards used in defence:
- conclusion of the Agency's first Administrative Arrangement, with Norway;
- final transfer of the portfolio of collaborative projects from the WEAO Research Cell, allowing that organisation to close (with savings to pMS concerned of over €2 million per annum);
- development in the Agency's new CapTech networks of a further 20 new R&T ad hoc collaborations;
- agreement of Agency standard framework conditions for such collaborations; and
- collection, for the first time, of a comprehensive set of data on defence input and output of the pMS.

Some negatives

10. There have also been disappointments to set against these encouraging developments. Principally, we still lack evidence of real readiness on the part of pMS to take significant steps towards repairing the now familiar capability gaps in any early time-frame. Thus the Hampton

2006 FINANCIAL REPORT

Court-inspired efforts to progress Air-to-Air Refuelling and Strategic Lift made no real progress, in the absence of any sign of Member States' preparedness to find ways to fund the significant investments that these capabilities will require.

11. Though the Agency will try to generate ideas and proposals in such areas, serious progress on repairing Europe's capability shortfalls will require that pMS themselves bring their own inventiveness and energy to the endeavour. Certainly, realisation of the Agency's full potential will require a degree of commitment and engagement by national staffs that is not yet always apparent. It may also require a shift of focus towards the medium-term, when convergence of national defence planning may be more easily achieved. The Capability Development Plan will be an important vehicle for that.

Looking ahead

- 12. As noted above, the Long-Term Vision now provides a foundation upon which more detailed work across the Agency's different agendas can be taken forward. In particular, we can now address an ESDP Capability Development Plan (CDP). The CDP will provide a framework of agreed capability priorities well beyond the Headline Goal 2010 horizon, so that guidance is available for those who wish to use it. It must provide a way in which Ministers collectively can achieve a proper understanding of collective progress to providing ESDP with the tools it needs. It should facilitate continuation of pMS' dialogue on defence planning and investment. And it must be a vehicle for providing mutual transparency amongst the Member States of what their mediumto long-term defence planning looks like, so that opportunities can be identified and pursued for joint investment and collaborative projects; for pooled acquisition of capabilities; for coherent role specialisation; or for anything else where the pooling of efforts and resources promises better value for money from constrained defence budgets. The Capabilities Steering Board will take this forward in December.
- 13. The EDTIB looks set to be another major theme for the year ahead. Building on the initial consensus achieved (para. 4 above) on the characteristics of a strong future EDTIB, we need to focus also on what it should contain (initially, through an analysis of what key technologies should be prioritised at the European level) and to develop the strategies and policies needed to help the DTIB evolve in the right direction.
- 14. Linked to this will be work to define a European Defence R&T Strategy, covering both prioritisation of technologies and also systemic issues such as the role of competition, the exploitation of synergies with dual-use R&T, etc.

Conclusion

15. The Agency is now showing its worth, in relation both to short- and longer-term agendas. At this stage of the enterprise, it is perhaps not surprising that it seems easier for pMS to agree on policies and strategies than on pooling their efforts and resources. But the challenge now – and work on the CDP should help – is for pMS to follow through the logic of agreed assessments into how they actually choose to spend their national defence budgets. This will not happen overnight. But it is the only way in which our capability deficiencies will be met.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

AUDIT OPINION

OPINION AUDIT AND REPORT OF THE COLLEGE OF AUDITORS FOR THE EUROPEAN DEFENCE AGENCY TO THE STEERING BOARD FOR THE EUROPEAN DEFENCE AGENCY

Report on the financial Statements

In accordance of Art. 43 of the Financial Rules of the European Defence Agency the College has audited the financial statements of the European Defence Agency for the year ended 31 December 2006. These comprise the income and expenditure account ("Management Accounts"), the Balance Sheet, and the Cash Flow Statement, and include a summary of significant accounting policies under which they have been prepared and other explanatory notes. The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the provisions and regulations set out in the financial rules.

The 2006 fiscal year surplus repayable to the PMS totalled € 4,245,010, whereas the assets amounted € 17,855,569.

The Accounting Officer's Responsibility for the Financial Statements and Financial Report

The Steering Board, on a proposal from the Head of the Agency, appointed an Accounting Officer, who is also the Chief Executive, responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements. This responsibility includes: proper implementation of payments, collection of revenue and recovery of amounts established as being receivable, preparing and presenting the accounts, keeping the accounts, laying down the accounting rules and methods and the chart of accounts, laying down and validating the accounting systems and where appropriate validating systems laid down by the authorising officer to supply or justify accounting information, and treasury management. The Accounting Officer is also responsible for providing a report on the financial aspects of the operation conducted and forwarding the financial statements and the Financial Report to the independent external audit team for the European Defence Agency.

External Audit Board's Responsibility

The Board's responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with international Standards on Auditing. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal controls relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates, if any, made by the Accounting Officer, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion. We have also read the Financial Report on the activities of the Agency and the implementation of the budget, to identify any material inconsistencies with the audited financial statements.

Unqualified opinion

In our opinion the financial statements present fairly, in accordance with the provisions and regulations set out in note 1 to the financial statements, and in all material aspects, the financial position of the European Defence Agency as at 31 December 2006 and the financial results of operations for the year then ended.

In our long form report we cover the scope of the audit: whether the financial statements are presented fairly, whether the financial statements are fully supported and comply with Financial Regulations, and key issues to follow up.

Signed on behalf of the College of Auditors by the Chairman, M. REMOND

F. WASCOTTE

2006 FINANCIAL REPORT

NOTES TO THE 2006 FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 1: Basis of Presentation and Specific Accounting Policies

BASIS OF PRESENTATION

EDA's financial accounts have been established in full conformity with:

- Council Joint Action 2004/551/CFSP of 12 July 2004 on the establishment of the European Defence Agency and
- EDA Steering Board Decision No. 2006/29 (Cor.) on the Financial Rules of the European Defence Agency ('the EDA Financial Rules' or 'FR'),
- EDA Finance Manual (or 'FM'), as well as with respect to:
- Council Regulation N° 1605/2002 of 25 June 2002 on the Financial Regulation applicable to the general budget of the European Communities ('EU Financial Regulation'),
- Commission Regulation N° 2342/2002 of 23 December 2002 laying down detailed rules for the implementation of the Financial Regulation ('EU Implementing Provisions') and
- "Final rules adopted by the Accountant of the European Communities after formal consultation of accountants of institutions and agencies based on the Art. 133 of the EU Financial Regulation".

SPECIFIC ACCOUNTING POLICIES

pMS Contributions

Contributions from participating Member States ('pMS') are calculated in accordance with the principles of the EU budget proportional share of the pMS's GNI in the total GNI aggregate. Contributions are requested in three instalments, by 15 February, 15 June and 15 October (Art. 16, Council Joint Action 2004/551/CFSP). In 2006, 24 pMS are EDA-members ⁽⁹⁾.

2006 Budget and 2006 Revised Budget

The budget for 2006 was established in November 2005. On 28 November 2006, to properly reflect its financial situation, the Agency issued a revised budget 2006, showing minor intrachapter transfers and theoretic pMS contributions based on forecasted expenses and revenues (EDA COM 06/125).

Carry-overs

In general, appropriations which have not been committed at the end of the financial year are cancelled. However, appropriations may be committed until 31 March of the following year, if "most of the preparatory stages of the commitment procedure, namely the selection of potential contractors, have been completed by 31 December" (Art. 11, FR ⁽¹⁰⁾). Each year, by 15 February, the Chief Executive submits to the Steering Board ('SB') a proposal on carry-overs. The Steering Board takes a decision by 15 March.

(9) EURO-25, excluding Denmark.

Date: 26/06/2007 Produced by: EDA – CSD FA

⁽¹⁰⁾ This article of the Financial Rules based on Commission Regulations 2342 will be revised in 2007 in order to address pMS' request for additional precision regarding carry-overs provisions (SBD 2007/10).

2006 FINANCIAL REPORT

Budgetary Surplus repayable to pMS

The budgetary surplus repayable to pMS is the difference between revenues and expenses of the financial year, including capital expenditure and depreciation adjustment. The surplus is returned to pMS as a deduction of the third contribution in the following financial year (for details, please see Note 5).

Fixed Asset Policy

Items acquired by the Agency whose purchase price is € 420 or more, with a period of use greater than one year, and which are not consumables are recorded in the fixed assets accounts (Art. 222, 'EU Implementing Provisions' and part 5.1, FM). The Agency performs an annual inventory of its fixed assets, where all qualifying assets are individually monitored and recorded in the fixed asset database.

The cost of fixed assets comprises the purchase price, including any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset into working condition for its intended use. Routine maintenance and repairs, however, are not capitalised but charged to expenses as incurred (part 5.1, FM).

In line with the Council's policy, asset-invoices are booked as expenses during the year and transferred to the balance sheet at year-end. The annual depreciation charge is then also added to expenses. In budgetary terms, however, assets and depreciation are budget neutral, as the acquisition cost is charged 100% to the current year's budget and depreciation charge is adjusted.

Depreciation

Depreciation is computed on a straight-line basis, from the date of the purchase, over the estimated useful life of the assets:

- 9 years for fitting-out of premises (building related investments),
- 5 years for office furniture (i.e. desks, chairs, filing cabinets, etc.) and office technical equipment (projectors, transcribers, bicycles etc),
- 3 years for IT equipment and software (computers, telecommunications, audiovisual, other equipment and software) and security equipment (scanner, surveillance equipment).

Provisional Appropriations

Each budgetary title may include a chapter entitled 'provisional appropriations'. These appropriations are entered where there is uncertainty, based on serious grounds, about the amount of appropriations needed or the scope for implementing the appropriations entered (Art. 4 of FR). Provisional appropriations of Title X can only be released after a Steering Board decision.

Note 2: Personnel Expenses

REGULATORY BASIS

Human resources parameters (11) and calculations are based on:

- Staff Regulations applicable to Officials and other Servants of the European Communities (12);
- Council Regulation (EC, EURATOM) No 1895/2006 of 19 December 2006 adjusting with effect from 1 July 2006 the remuneration and pensions of Officials and other Servants of the European Communities and the correction coefficients applied thereto.

PERSONNEL EXPENSES

Personnel expenses amount to € 10.8 million. The increase in personnel expenses reflect the growth of EDA's personnel (from 79 to 94), regulatory step changes after 2 years of service, annual salary grid adjustments and increase in the Agency's mission activity.

During 2006, 59 % of personnel were employed as Temporary Staff, 26 % as Seconded National Experts, 6 % as Contract Staff and 4 % as Officials on Secondment, and 5 % as Trainees.

STAFF CATEGORIES AT THE AGENCY

EDA employs five different categories of personnel:

Function group AST comprises eleven grades, corresponding to executive, technical and clerical duties.

2. Officials on Secondment

In 2006, allowances were paid to 25 SNEs:
